COL DU NOYER Ⓛ

Bien connu des cyclistes, le col du Noyer sépare le Dévoluy du Champsaur. C'est un point stratégique qui témoigne de la vitalité des échanges entre ces deux massifs. De là-haut, la vue est imprenable sur le paysage champsaurin et son bocage.

GIOBERNEY ET LE VOILE DE LA MARIÉE Ⓛ

À cœur des Ecrins, entouré de sommets emblématiques à plus de 3000m d'altitude (Les Rouis, Les Bans, Le Sirac...), cet ancien cirque glaciaire est connu pour sa fameuse cascade du Voile de la Mariée, ses nombreuses randonnées, ses voies d'alpinisme et ses refuges de montagne.

COL DU NOYER Ⓛ

Well known to cyclists, the Col du Noyer mountain pass separates Dévoluy from Champsaur. It is a strategic place that testifies to the vitality of the trade between these two mountain areas. From high up, the view of the Champsaur landscape and its "bocage" is breathtaking.

GIOBERNEY AND LE VOILE DE LA MARIÉE WATERFALLS Ⓛ

In the heart of Ecrins, surrounded by emblematic peaks over 3,000 m high (Les Rouis, Les Bans, Sirac...), this ancient glacial cirque is known for its famous waterfall known as the 'Voile de la Mariée' (Bridal Veil), its many hiking trails, its mountaineering routes and mountain cabins.

LAC DU LAUZON

À l'exceptionnel Cirque du Gieberney, au-dessus de la cascade du Voile de la Mariée, ce lac est un petit joyau serré dans une couronne de montagnes grandioses dont les sommets se reflètent dans ses eaux limpides.

LES OULLES DU DIABLE

Sous le tablier en pierre d'un pont gallo-romain : les Oulles du Diable ('Les Oulles' en latin signifient 'les marmites'). Ces gorges impressionnantes ont été creusées patiemment par la puissance des eaux du torrent de Navelle. Cette oeuvre millénaire se situe au hameau des Portes, à quelques lacets de La Chapelle-en-Valgaudemar. Ambiance assurée...
